Learning Zone Rules

Millennium learning zone rules:

- For quiet group work (if too noisy you will be asked to leave)
- IDs must be worn around your neck
- Students must be working (not chatting/using mobile phones at tables)
- No eating or drinking in the learning zone (except bottled water)
- Students must be sitting at tables, not standing around talking to friends
- There is a maximum of 5 people to a table

Please note: The millennium learning zone closes at 5pm.

North wing learning zone rules:

- The learning zone is silent at all times
- ID's must be worn around your neck
- Students must be actively working
- Mobile phones if used, must be for work only
- There is no eating or drinking in the learning zone

Please note for directed or supervised study:

If students need to leave the north wing learning zone for any reason they must ask permission.

If students need a computer from the library, they must borrow one before their session starts.

If students are more than 15 minutes late to directed study, they will be marked as absent.

The register for A2 students will be taken at the end of the session (names will be called out by the supervising staff member).

Social Mobility Foundation

If you would like to find out about the Social Mobility Foundation from a student's perspective Tasheeka will be holding a Q&A session on Tuesday 14 November at 3.15pm in Room 2.

The Social Mobility Foundation (SMF) is a charity that aims to make a practical improvement in social mobility for young people from low income backgrounds. The Foundation helps students from under represented minority groups to apply and be accepted to university. It is entirely free and allows you to build a large network of both peers and working professionals in the sector that you want to work from a young age.
